Have you ever wanted an exceptional presentation? We know the person you are looking for.

GUIDE International has been fortunate to secure the services of Randall Munson on a number of important occasions. He has been a very popular part of our Personal Enrichment Program. We invited him to deliver a keynote presentation to the delegates at the President's Dinner, and on a number of occasions the executives in the GUIDE International Executive Management Series have requested him to share his insights.

He has always delivered outstanding presentations that educate, inspire, and enthrall his listeners. He combines 25 years in the Information Technology industry, 20 years with IBM research and development, and 20 years as a professional magician, with his natural gift as an educator to provide high-impact presentations that are truly unique and truly profitable to today's business.

If you are looking for an exceptional speaker who has inspired and guided businesses all over the world, we highly recommend Randall Munson.

You can reach him by phone or fax at 1-800-294-1331, via email at Randall@CreativelySpeaking.com, or through his web site, www.CreativelySpeaking.com. We are confident you will agree that Randall Munson is a valuable asset to our industry and to your business.

Sincerely,

Larry Williams
