To Whom It May Concern:

Randall Munson's presentation was more than a hit – it was a grand slam home run.

Before hiring Randall to speak at our Regional Sales Meeting, we at E. & J. Gallo had carefully considered dozens of professional speakers to find one that could be effective with our demanding staff of highly-driven, unrelenting 25-32 year olds. Randall connected with every one of them as they enthusiastically seized his vital message, applied his ideas, and immediately demonstrated dramatically increased creativity. Our decision to hire Randall Munson was the best choice we could have made. He was fantastic!

Exemplifying the professionalism that Randall demonstrated throughout, he prepared by interviewing a number of our staff before carefully customizing a unique program tailored just for us. He skillfully communicated his expertise by carefully blending examples from our own business, his international business experience, fascinating magic, uproarious humor, and powerful, practical ideas. Randall was the perfect climax to our conference because he carefully pulled together all the messages we wanted to communicate and nailed them home with a passionate, presentation we will never forget.

Sometimes things work better than you expect, and Randall Munson's program was better than I could have even imagined.

I highly recommend Randall Munson as a brilliant speaker that will impress, inform, stimulate and motivate the most demanding audiences.

Sincerely,

Frank Marcus
General Sales Manager
